At least 90 places are available for IESE Business School students to study for one term in the second year at one of our exchange partner schools. Allocation of exchange places is done using a bidding process based on the GPA obtained in the courses in the first and second terms of the first academic year. Please note that, according to the U.S. Department of Education, students who are U.S. citizens and who decide to take out U.S. Federal Direct Loans are not eligible to go on an exchange in the United States or at a school outside the United States that does not participate in the Federal Student Loan Program. The schools currently participating in this program are London Business School, HEC School of Management, Melbourne Business School and Recanati School of Business Administration at the University of Tel Aviv. More information, including a list of all exchange business schools, is available on the website here.

- “Overseas Modules”: The MBA Program currently offers electives at the following locations: New York, Sao Paulo, Nairobi and Shanghai. International electives are included in the bidding process for terms four and five. Each week, two half-credit courses are offered. During these overseas modules, students can take up to four half-credit courses, including company visits and networking events that provide direct insight into business practices in each of these important locations. The Nairobi and Sao Paulo modules offer in-company projects during the second week. Students choosing to work on these projects actually start their research at least a month before traveling to their destination and continue working after their return to Barcelona. Please note that, according to the U.S. Department of Education, students who are U.S. citizens and who decide to take out U.S. Federal Direct Loans are not eligible to attend the New York module. • Institutional policies and penalties for copyright infringement: Unauthorized distribution of copyrighted material, including unauthorized peer-to-peer file sharing, may subject students to civil and criminal liabilities. Spanish copyright legislation is available at Summary of the Intellectual Property area (provided by the Ministry of Education, Culture and Sport), and information about possible penalties is provided here. Additionally, in accordance with the MBA Program rules included in the MBA Program Handbook, students who submit work that is not their own or without clearly attributing the original sources will be subject to disciplinary action. Punishment for plagiarism may include expulsion from the MBA Program.

• Statement of Civil and Criminal Penalties for Violation of Federal Copyright Laws: Copyright infringement is the act of exercising, without permission or legal authority, one or more of the exclusive rights granted to the copyright owner under section 106 of the Copyright Act (Title 17 of the United States Code). These rights include the right to reproduce or distribute a copyrighted work. In the file-sharing context, downloading or uploading substantial parts of a copyrighted work without authority constitutes an infringement. Penalties for copyright infringement include civil and criminal penalties. In general, anyone found liable for civil copyright infringement may be ordered to pay either actual damages or “statutory” damages affixed at not less than $750 and not more than $30,000 per work infringed. For “willful” infringement, a court may award up to $150,000 per work infringed. A court can, in its discretion, also assess costs and attorneys’ fees. For details, see Title 17, United States Code, Sections 504, 505. Willful copyright infringement can also result in criminal penalties, including imprisonment of up to five years and fines of up to $250,000 per offense. For more information, please see the website of the U.S. Copyright Office at www.copyright.gov.

• Privacy of Student Records: The Spanish Data Protection Act (Ley Orgánica 15/1999 de Protección de Datos de Carácter Personal) addresses the issue of personal data protection. It protects individuals in the area of processing of personal data and the free movement of data. According to the law, data controllers (in this case, IESE Business School) must meet several obligations, including:
  - Complying with the principles of data quality.
  - Informing data subjects about data processing on collection.
  - Obtaining data subjects’ consent to process their data.
  - Registering personal data files.
  - Implementing security measures to protect personal data, including drafting a security document.
  - Attending to data subjects’ rights of access, rectification, cancellation and opposition.
  - Entering into data processing agreements with data processors.
  - Keeping personal data confidential.

More information about current legislation is available on the website of the Spanish Data Protection Agency.

• Textbook information will be provided to each student by the MBA Department (mbaoffice@iese.edu).

• Equity in Athletics Disclosure Act: IESE Business School does not have an intercollegiate athletic program.

• Facilities and Services for Students with Disabilities: Spanish law (Art. 16, 17 of Royal Decree Law 1393/2007) requires that facilities be accessible to students with special needs. In such cases, based on its policy, IESE Business School offers each student a mentor’s help during the admission process to evaluate the student’s needs. Furthermore, during the program, the MBA Office is in charge of providing support to students with special needs in different areas such as logistics, mobility, accommodation search, location in the class and additional time during exam sessions. All students are assigned an academic mentor who supports them to fulfill the objectives of the program right from the beginning of the MBA until graduation. Mentors pay special attention to students with special needs.

- Please consult the description of the Graduate PLUS Loan Here.

- Please consult the eligibility criteria Here.

- The Code of Conduct for Education Loans prohibits conflicts of interest between an agent’s responsibilities at the school and the previous FFEL Program and private education loans. All agents with responsibility for loans are informed annually of code provisions, which prohibit:
  - Revenue-sharing arrangements with any lender
  - Receiving gifts from a lender, a guarantor or a loan service

Sallie Mae is a student loan company experienced in providing loans to U.S. students studying outside the United States. It is also the only lender IESE Business School is aware of that will lend funds for private loans to U.S. students studying outside the United States. We therefore do not have a preferred lender list. IESE Business School will work with any private lender students decide to use if the lender is willing to work with the school.

Please remember to compare all loans before applying. Most private loans have variable interest rates (meaning the rates will fluctuate over time), whereas Federal Student Loans have fixed interest rates and more lenient repayment terms. Please note that before we can certify and process a private loan (offered by Sallie Mae), you will also need to have completed and sent in a signed and dated ‘Private Education Loan Applicant Self-Certification’ form. An emailed, scanned completed copy will also be acceptable and can be sent to: faohelp@iese.edu.

- National Student Loan Data System (NSLDS): The NSLDS is the U.S. Department of Education’s central database for student aid. If a student receives a U.S. Federal Loan, the school is required to submit relevant data about the loan to the NSLDS. The NSLDS is accessible to guarantee agencies, lenders and schools determined to be authorized users of the data system. Additionally, IESE also frequently provides the NSLDS with confirmation and updates on students’ enrollment status.

- Students’ Rights and Responsibilities regarding Title IV funds under the HEA loan program can be found on the U.S. Department of Education website.
• Consequences of defaults on U.S. Federal Loans:
  - The entire unpaid balance of your loan and any interest is immediately due and payable.
  - You lose eligibility for deferment, forbearance and repayment plans.
  - You lose eligibility for additional federal student aid.
  - Your loan account is assigned to a collection agency.
  - The loan will be reported as delinquent to credit bureaus, thus damaging your credit rating. This will affect your ability to buy a car or house or to get a credit card.
  - Your federal and state taxes may be withheld through a tax offset. This means that the Internal Revenue Service can take your federal and state tax refund to collect any of your defaulted student loan debt.
  - Your student loan debt will increase because of late fees, additional interest, court costs, collection fees, attorney's fees and any other costs associated with the collection process.
  - Your employer (at the request of the federal government) can withhold money from your pay and send the money to the government. This process is called wage garnishment.
  - The loan holder can take legal action against you and you may not be able to purchase or sell assets such as real estate.
  - Federal employees face the possibility of having 15% of their disposable pay offset by their employer toward repayment of their loan through Federal Salary Offset.
  - It will take years to reestablish your credit and recover from default.

• Entrance Counseling for Student Loan Borrowers: All students receiving unsubsidized or PLUS Loan under the Direct Loan Program or the previous FFEL Program must complete entrance counseling before the first loan disbursement. During entrance counseling, student will learn about the following:
  - What a Direct Loan is and how the loan process works
  - Managing your education expenses
  - Other financial resources to consider to help pay for your education
  - Your rights and responsibilities as a borrower

Direct Loan Entrance Counseling is available electronically at Entrance Counseling.gov. Additionally, before the first loan disbursement, the student should sign the IESE Entrance Counseling Form (document provided by the Financial Aid Office: faohelp@iese.edu).

• Exit Counseling for Student Loan Borrowers: U.S. regulations require student to complete exit counseling by the time he finishes his studies at IESE Business School. This should be done before he graduates, drops below half-time attendance or withdraws. Exit counseling is available on the StudentLoans.gov website: https://studentloans.gov/myDirectLoan/index.action. Additionally, after disbursement of loans for each academic year, the student should sign the IESE Exit Counseling Form (document provided by the Financial Aid Office: faohelp@iese.edu).
